What is passive infrared technology (PIR) ?

It's advanced motion detection that senses body heat and reduces false alarms. The PIR Technology takes your motion detection to the next level by greatly reducing inaccuracies and false motion alerts. Homeguard camera's PIR sensor can detect changes in heat produced by humans, animals and vehicles. This new technology requires both changes in motion and heat be detected simultaneously. Not only does this innovative technology significantly reduce the number of false alerts you receive, it also conserves hard drive space. It is true and smart detection!
